

Chemistry 30 is composed of four units that involve the study of thermochemistry, electrochemistry, organic chemistry, and equilibrium. There is a final exam. There are four units assignments and four unit exams. There is a diploma for this course.

Registration provides access to a student-selected pathway between print and/or online resources. The Multimedia Flash Drive contains the resources needed to complete the course using the print pathway. The Multimedia Flash Drive contains eight instructional modules, thirty-four assignments, eight module tests, as well as the complete viewable course and multimedia.

- A computer with a working USB port is required.
- A printer connected to the computer is recommended.
- Internet service is required.